ORAL JUDGMENT

1.0 This appeal is directed against the judgment and order dated 07.10.1996 passed by the learned Judicial Magistrate, First Class, Junagadh in Criminal Case No. 11650 of 1989 whereby, the respondents – accused persons were acquitted of the charges levelled against them.

2.0 The brief facts of the prosecution case are as under;

2.1 On 27.01.1988 an inspection was carried out at the shop of the respondents by the Officers of the appellant – State. After completing necessary formalities, a sample of sweet carbonated water was collected from the respondents in the presence of 'panchas' after making necessary payment towards the same. The said sample was then sent to the Analyst for examination.

2.2 On examination the sample was found to be adulterated. Therefore, a complaint with respect to the aforesaid alleged offence was filed against the respondents and, ultimately, trial was conducted. In order to prove the guilt against the respondents, the prosecution has examined the complainant – Jamnadas Bhanajibhai as PW – 1 at Exhibit – 71, Harsukhlal Haribhai as PW – 2 at Exhibit – 137 and Mukesh Kantilal as PW – 3 at Exhibit – 138 and has also relied upon several documentary evidence. At the end of trial, the learned Magistrate acquitted the respondents of the charges levelled against them.

3.0 Heard learned counsel for the respective parties and perused the entire documents on record. The principles which would govern and regulate the hearing of appeal by this Court against an order of acquittal passed by the trial Court have been very succinctly explained by the Apex Court in a catena of decisions. This Court has the power to re-consider the whole issue involved in the appeal, re-appraise the evidence and come to its own conclusion and findings in place of the findings recorded by the trial Court, if the said findings are against the weight of the evidence on record or, in other words, perverse.

4.0 In a recent decision of the Apex Court in the case of State of Goa v. Sanjay Thakran & anr. reported in (2007) 3 S.C.C. 755, the Court has reiterated the powers of this Court in such cases. In Para-16 of the said decision, the Court has observed as under ;

“16. From the aforesaid decisions, it is apparent that while exercising the powers in appeal against the order of acquittal the Court of appeal would not ordinarily interfere with the order of acquittal unless the approach of the lower Court is vitiated by some manifest illegality and the conclusion arrived at would not be arrived at by any reasonable person and, therefore, the decision is to be characterized as perverse. Merely because two views are possible, the Court of appeal would not take the view which would upset the judgment delivered by the Court below. However, the appellate Court has a power to review the evidence if it is of the view that the conclusion arrived at by the Court below is perverse and the Court has committed a manifest error of law and ignored the material evidence on record. A duty is cast upon the appellate Court, in such circumstances, to re-appreciate the evidence to arrive to a just decision on the basis of material placed on record to find out whether any of the accused is connected with the commission of the crime he is charged with”.

[Emphasis supplied]

5.0 Similar principle has been reiterated by the Hon'ble Apex Court in two recent decisions in the cases of State of Uttar Pradesh v. Ram Veer Singh & ors. reported in 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5553 and in Girja Prasad (Dead) by L.Rs. v. State of M.P. reported in 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5589. Thus, the powers which this Court may exercise against an order of acquittal are well settled.

6.0 After considering the entire evidence available on record, the trial Court has come to the conclusion that the prosecution has failed to prove that the sample was collected after following due procedure of law. When the sample is found to be taken without following due procedure, the Report of the Public Analyst cannot be used as a basis for convicting the accused.

7.0 Considering the facts of the case, it would be relevant to refer to a decision of this Court in the case of Laxmichand Bhailal Thakker v. State of Gujarat reported in 1995 (2) G.L.R. 1528 wherein it has been held that the provisions of Sections 7 & 16 of the Prevention of Food Adulteration Act, 1954 and Rule 4 of the Prevention of Food Adulteration Rules, 1955 are mandatory and that the failure to do so vitiates the trial.

8.0 Keeping in mind the principle laid down by this Court in Laxmichand Bhailal Thakker's case (supra), I am of the opinion that the trial Court was completely justified in acquitting the respondents of the charges levelled against them. In my view, the findings recorded by the trial Court are absolutely just and proper and in recording the said findings, no illegality or infirmity has been committed by it. I am in complete agreement with the findings, ultimate conclusion and the resultant order of acquittal recorded by the trial Court and, hence, find no reasons to interfere with the same.

9.0 I am not discussing the evidence of each witness/s in detail in view of the observations made by the Apex Court in the case of State of Karnataka Vs. Hemareddy reported in A.I.R. 1981 S.C. 1417 wherein it is held as under:

“... This court has observed in Girija Nandini Devi V. Bigendra Nandini Chaudhary (1967)1 SCR 93: (AIR 1967 SC 1124) that it is not the duty of the appellate court when it agrees with the view of the trial court on the evidence to repeat the narration of the evidence or to reiterate the reasons given by the trial court expression of general agreement with the reasons given by the Court the decision of which is under appeal, will ordinarily suffice.”

10.0 In the result, the appeal is dismissed. Office is directed to send the Records & Proceedings of the case, if lying with this Court, to the trial Court concerned forthwith.
